Welcome...

In 1968, Gérard Gallant discovered and fell in love with 400 acres of forest on Rigaud Mountain. After owning and operating a restaurant in Montreal, he began contemplating the possibility of opening an Inn and offering a peaceful haven of country life to his city customers

In 1972, he sold his Montreal restaurant and renovated the old farm-house into a bar keeping the big old fireplace where customers could relax and contemplate the menu while waiting for a table in the 26 seat dining room. Six rooms were available if guests wished to stay overnight.

The demand became so great that, in 1984, major renovations were completed to enlarge the first dining room as well as add a reception hall for 125 people and a new main 75 seat dining room which overlooks the pool, terrace and gardens in summer and the deer feeding in winter!

Great care was taken in decorating to assure a relaxed and peaceful, oasis of country comfort. Staff members were chosen for their tact, efficiency and charm. All staff is bilingual if not trilingual due to the amount of international visitors greeted by the Inn on a yearly basis

In 1988, a new wing was added – twenty-four guest rooms (each 400 sq. feet) including balconies, fireplaces, whirlpool bath, house coats, coffee machines (wireless internet, TV, VCR and other amenities) await our corporate and vacationing guests.

Why not take advantage of one of our room packages?
We hope to have the pleasure of greeting you soon!
